

Eric Schnure

Class of 1988

After receiving a degree in History from Hobart College and a masters in International Relations and Diplomatic History from the London School of Economics, Eric served as a speech writer for Vice President Al Gore. He not only wrote speeches, but also worked on the vice president's image and how he portrays himself to the public. He has written hundreds of speeches for Gore including his convention speeches in Chicago and helped prepare him for the Vice Presidential Debates in Florida. His career includes world travel with the Vice President including the Middle East, Europe and China.