How to save the sea turtles

By Ellie Russell

All seven species of sea turtles are on the endangered list. If we want to keep turtles around we have to make major changes. One thing we do that is hurting the turtle population is light pollution. Sea turtles when they hatch find their way to sea by the shine of moonlight. But with all the artificial lights it can be hard for the young turtles to know what is the moon and what is man made. They often walk into the street and get run over thinking that a street light is the moon. We can save them from this by having less man made lights and use lights other than blue lights which hurts turtles eyes.

Another thing we can do to save the sea turtles is by not polluting the oceans. Plastic bags and other plastic materials are hurting the ocean. Animals in the sea think that plastic is they prey and they eat it and could suffocate or get sick. Many stores are banning the use of plastic bags hoping to save the ocean. Please help the turtles!

Who is Greta Thunberg?

Greta Thunberg is a Swedish activist with a "superpower" of Aspergers that sparked an international movement to fight climate change. She started it all in 2018 when she realized how much the climate was changing. She started to go on trips to talk to people like the president himself, the government, and the youth group organization for global warming. Although she went all around the world, she would only go on boat to reduce her carbon footprint. She also started a "school strike for climate," meaning that she only went to school some days and others she spent protesting. She told people, "our climate that we are living in will soon be decreasing if we don't do something now". "How dare you!"

OG THE FROG Poet: Jacob Nelson

Once there was little frog
His name was Og
The next day it was pretty odd
One day he was playing leapfrog
He was playing with his friend Jack while there was a lot of fog
Then Jack said "I will be back Og"
Then og went and laid on a log
And then out of notice

A human said "my grandson would love this"
All of the sudden he caught Og!
Og thought what happened to the log
The log fell down because of the humans dog
They went into the house to feed Og
Og thought, I see abc!
Og thought, what had happened to me
Then he BOING BOING!

Then he saw two humans looking at him
The said "what should we name him"
Then the grandson said "Og"
They brought Og to room 27

But George was not a nice frog
